

Newsletter: Autumn 2020

Dear Colleague

Last term has been one like no other. Above all, congratulations on ensuring your students received the best learning experience possible in very challenging circumstances. Like many, you've found creative solutions to withstand the impact of the pandemic.

At Elemi, we're fortunate we can work with remote teams and still develop resources to help your students achieve their best. We sincerely hope you have a peaceful and restful break spent in the company of loved ones.

Festive decorations, Singapore

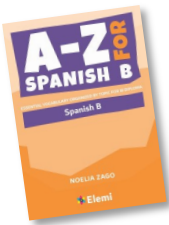

Happy Holidays!

DISCOUNT CODE

We're gifting newsletter subscribers a special discount code. Enjoy 15% discount on any Elemi title, when using the code NEWSLI5

>> Click here to use this discount code

Discount code valid until 28 February 2021. Only valid on direct sales through our own/NBNI online checkout. Not valid on Amazon.

A-Z for Spanish B: independent review from IB educator

We were delighted when Elisabet Aleu, an IB educator and examiner teaching in Barcelona offered to carry out an independent review of A - Z for Spanish B. Elisabet said:

'As an IB Spanish B teacher, I would make this book mandatory because it is a great way to easily find appropriate vocabulary for each topic the students might be working on. Sometimes, finding the right entry in a dictionary can be overwhelming and students can feel assured that in this book they will obtain the correct word. I believe that it would make students learn in a more confident way and overall it would help them achieve great results in their IB exams.'

For the full review, please see the feedback section on our website.

We're delighted to announce to our newsletter subscribers that Elemi International Schools Publisher has made arrangements for local printing in North America and Australia. This means that in these regions, you can order our books with less transport impact on the environment and receive your books more quickly! Of course, you can still buy through IB Source or order direct from many online bookstores (like Barnes & Noble).

For more information, please email team@elemi-isp.com.

NEW subjects in development - thank you for your input!

Given the positive reaction from teachers and students to our new books, we are now working with a number of educators to expand the Elemi A - Z for IB Diploma series. Look out for opportunities to input into our new publishing. Subjects now being planned include:

- German B
- English B
- Theory of Knowledge
- Spanish Ab initio
- French Ab initio

Thank you to all those TOK educators who generously took part in research for the new subject guide we carried out in the summer. Almost half of all respondents told us the biggest challenges for students were:

Writing the essay using accurate and precise language

Choosing appropriate IA prompts

Mastering the concepts and language of TOK

To order books for your school, contact your local supplier for the best price, or email:

team@elemi-isp.com. Individual student copies also available through Amazon and other online sellers.

To remove your name from our mailing list, please click here.
Questions or comments? E-mail us at team@elemi-isp.com.