

Newsletter: Winter 2021

Dear Colleague

Despite the challenging times during the last term affecting us all globally - I hope that 2022 will bring plenty of optimism, good health, and success for you, your colleagues, and, of course, your learners.

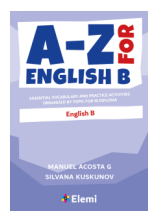

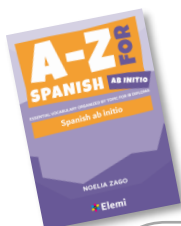

This edition of our newsletter brings you an update on conference workshops our authors have contributed to, prize draw winners, as well as a summary of all our new publishing in 2021.

The holiday season in London, UK.
Wherever you are for the holidays, we wish you peace and good health.

Happy Holidays!

More books in the series ... what teachers say

Instead of looking for additional vocabulary online, this book is a great source of supplementary and required vocabulary to use with IB students preparing for the exams.

I'm a French teacher, and LOVE the French version, but our German teacher NEEDS this resource!

Thank you so much. I saw the sample of Spanish B and I love it. Thank you for taking care of us, teachers and students.

I find it more interesting than the one we actually use at school as it contains more language expressions for each theme. I have already suggested the school buy it for our students.

STOP PRESS!

We are exhibiting once again at ISMLA in 2022. Taking place at Charterhouse School on 29 January, we look forward to meeting delegates.

Come along and say Hello!

HAVE YOU HEARD OUR AUTHORS?

Danièle Bourdais recently spoke virtually about vocabulary learning at Language World and for the BCATML Celebrating Languages conference. There were two prize winners from these events: Selina Kruchten from Calgary and VT from an international school in BC each won a free copy of one of our books! Noelia Zago was also invited to deliver professional development to IBDP educators for a leading digital education platform.

We're delighted that Elemi resources are written by experts in their field who readily share their practical tips and guidance with others. Follow us on our social media to hear about events our authors are involved in - and which might help you!

Our resources are used all over the world, including Greece, UK, Hong Kong, Singapore, Australia, and the US. To order books for your school, contact your local supplier for the best price, or email:

team@elemi-isp.com.

Also available through leading online sellers, including the Book Depository, Barnes & Noble, Amazon, or Booktopia.
